ABOUT ME

I'm Andi -- a glass half full kind of girl and wife to E, mama to Lucy, dog mom to Jack, sister, daughter, entrepreneur, grad school student, and lover of life. We recently moved from San Francisco to Nashville, where we're in the process of turning our 100 year old house into a home.

On my blog, I share about life, motherhood, home decor, self-love and inspiration, travel, and our adventures as a family. Aside from my blog, I also manage a digital marketing shop, Lucky Collective.
